

Laptops and PC's

With our Business IT on Demand, all you need in the majority of cases is a working laptop or PC with an internet browser and an internet connection. But if you need to source new laptops or PC's, we can help. Having researched the market, we believe that Dell offers the best value in terms of price, functionality, and reliability.

Our partnership with Dell means we can supply you with the latest they have to offer. We can also procure and supply the hardware to you fully installed and working with the products and services you buy from us.

Dell offer a wide range of hardware designed to cater for home and business, and to suit every budget. We recommend two configurations for both laptop and PC which are in our opinion suitable for small businesses both in terms of performance and superior level of support. Since you will not want to replace too often, a slightly higher spec and hence a higher price (above their base models) makes good business sense.

However, please talk to us about your specific needs and let us help you decide the best option for you.
